

Internship – Remote Grant-Writing Intern at the N/a'an ku sê Foundation

The N/a'an ku sê Foundation is a non-profit organization dedicated to the conservation and protection of the natural world, and the empowerment of marginalized communities in Namibia. Our mission is to conserve the landscapes, protect wildlife and improve the lives of the people, fostering a better future through collaboration and innovation. Our work is diverse, ranging from wildlife conservation efforts to community education and healthcare programs.

We are seeking a passionate, self-driven, and motivated individual to join our team as a voluntary and remote Grant-Writing Intern. In this remote internship, you will play a crucial role in supporting our fundraising efforts to help sustain and expand our programs. You will work alongside our experienced fundraising team and will gain experience in grant-writing, conservation topics, humanitarian topics and much more. Project financing is a must-have skill for any candidate exploring work in the non-profit sector, and this internship aims to provide the necessary real-world skills to budding impact professionals.

The internship is for a minimum duration of 3 months, time commitment is flexible and can be discussed.

Key Responsibilities:

- Research and identify potential grant opportunities.
- Assist in writing compelling grant proposals and funding applications to raise funds for ongoing and new projects.

The Ideal Candidate:

- Strong interest in wildlife conservation, biodiversity, humanitarian aid, social development and/or sustainable development.
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills in English
- Ability to work independently and manage time effectively.
- Detail-oriented with proactive mindset.
- Previous experience in grant-writing is a plus.

Benefits:

- Gain valuable experience in non-profit grant-writing and learn more about conservation and humanitarian projects.
- Opportunity to contribute to impactful conservation and community programs.
- Flexible working hours and remote work environment.
- Formal internship with a well-recognized non-profit institution and a letter of recommendation upon successful completion of the internship.
- The chance to be part of an international team working on real-world solutions for wildlife and community welfare.
